

ABSTRACT

A method of processing mature chickens comprises deboning the chicken into individual pieces and exposing the muscle fibers of the individual pieces to the ambient environment. A water binding agent is introduced to the muscle fibers and the muscle fibers are vacuum tumbled for dispersing the water binding agent throughout the muscle fibers in an uniform manner.

0677191.01